SPEED READING and study Skills Class

Academic Consulting Institute of California is offering their one week intensive seminar on speed reading and study skills.

— Seminar is completed in one week.

— The course is designed to let you use your homework, ACI is a reputable group... proved successful on the West Coast with General Dynamics, General Atomics, and the military.

— Reasonable cost at $85... comparable courses are typically twice the price.

More than 3,000 students have doubled their reading speed and maintained or increased their comprehension. In this course you can expect to double your reading speed, improve your comprehension, markedly increase your ability to take tests and significantly improve your overall study skills.

Seminar Begins Saturday.

FORUM
Sept. 19
MARRIOTT CENTER

PROFESSOR CLAYNE POPE
"The American Economy:
Lessons from the Past"
An Illustrated Lecture

QUESTIONS FOR DISCUSSION

- What role does the American family play in our economy?
- How effective has the free market been in the regulation of our economy?
- What are the causes of economic growth in this country?
- What economic lessons can be learned from the American past?
- How do these lessons apply to contemporary society?
- In what sense do we allow the economy to be held hostage by favored groups?

group whose time has passed, and are trying good, without the slick trapping that marks too much known songs, "Cast Your Fate To The Wind," and desperately to stay in the mainstream by repeating tried "Good Time Charlie's Got The Blues," but it is impossible to pick a best song. They're all excellent.

Carl Klugh is a black acoustic guitar player whose pop-jazz style has been largely ignored outside of jazz circles, but whose new album should appeal to even the most hardened pop fan.

Because he is black and because he is a jazz-pop guitarist, comparisons with George Benson are inon drums and John Entwistle on bass, has never been better. What weakness there are on Who Are You are due to weak writing on the part of Peter Townsend. The title song tends to get boring after one playing, and "Love Is Coming Down" is atrocious, but the rest of the album is quite good.

Side One features "905," a song about the possibility of a society made up of test-tube babies; "Had Enough," which could well be the anthem of the 1970's "me generation"; "New Song," the message of which is that although times may change, the Who sings the "same old song" and "Music Must Change," a jazzy number with the same message. All of these songs have the Who energy, down to a screaming Roger Daltrey and an active Keith Moon. "Sister Disco," however, is "Space Cathedral" in a 1972 re-broadcast, the attempt to integrate religion and technology by building a "cathedral" in an Air Force hanger is examined.

"LOOK AND LIVE" trends in the Church". The latest trends in the American religious community are discussed.

"TRENDS IN THE CHURCH". The Legend" Michener traces the unique history of the country chronicled in his novel, "Iberia," attempting to capture the "essence, richness, color of a wild, strange and romantic" landscape. There's "Smoke" (Lawyer Eddie Capra) volunteers to help clear a young woman of murder charges, resulting from an arson investigation.

"THE SMOKE" (Lawyer Eddie Capra) volunteers to help clear a young woman of murder charges, resulting from an arson investigation.

"GUNSMOKE" (James Arness) James Arness plays a gun-savvy deputy who cleans up a crime-plagued town and captures the affections of a lovely, gambling hostess.

"THE EDDIE CAPRA MYSTERIES" (Peter Falk) "There's Smoke" (Lawyer Eddie Capra) volunteers to help clear a young woman of murder charges, resulting from an arson investigation.

"LIVE" (Richard Dreyfuss) Richard Dreyfuss plays a lawyer who finds that they have Mexican land claims to the same plot of land.

"SATURDAY NIGHT LIVE" (Jimmy Buffet) Jimmy Buffet plays a host of a Saturday night talk show.

"THE TONIGHT SHOW STARRING JIMMY FALLON" (Jimmy Fallon) Jimmy Fallon hosts a late-night talk show.

mers — it was also an authentic, colorful glimpse of Chinese culture.

Balancing the graceful and dignified with the humorous, the acrobats demonstrated the best of a 5,000-year-old culture famous for its emphasis on mastery of the physical body.

"Mind over matter," the announcer's voice booms. The Chinese Kung Fu artist lifts his sledge hammer over a stack of bricks piled on his fellow performer's head. Oriental drums beat a tense rhythm as the man sits crosslegged, motionless, waiting for the hammer above his head to descend.

Suddenly, a savage Chinese yell cuts the air. The lithe body with the hammer moves quickly in one quick, controlled move over his partner's head and the bricks dash in pieces to the floor. Then both men are standing, their arms up triumphantly as the audience gasps and then applauds. This was only one of a quick-moving series of awe inspiring feats performed by a troupe of Chinese acrobats in the Marriott Center Saturday night. The Chinese Circus, part of the College of Fine Arts and Communications' Lyceum Series, was an exciting, refreshing look at what can happen when men really believe in "mind over matter."

The circus was not only incredible in the daring and expertise of its perfor-

MATH, PHYSICS, CHEMISTRY AND ENGINEERING STUDENTS

Did you know that it is possible for you to start a career in the nuclear field right out of college? If you are a student in good academic standing and have completed one year (each) of calculus and physics, you may qualify for the Navy Nuclear Propulsion Candidate Program. In addition, you could receive over $6000 your senior year for just going to school. After commissioning, you will receive over one year of theoretical and applied nuclear engineering. During training, you will be paid $16,700 and over $26,400 after four years. We operate 70% of the reactors in America so our training is the broadest and most comprehensive.
